

Outline of the overseas inspection and examination agency system

*New amendments of law

- As movement toward the removal of trade barriers has been progressing world wide, it is necessary to review regulations from the point of view of responding to internationalization.

- Amendments will allow the registration of agencies located overseas which have no offices in Japan, from amongst agencies (registered inspection and examination agencies) which carry out inspections, etc. which must be carried out when manufacturing particularly high danger machines such as boilers.

Mechanism of inspections and examination of machines, etc.
