Emergency Medical Service System

Overview Structural Chart of Emergency Medical Service Emergency and critical care Emergency and critical care (24 hours) (24 hours) Comprehensive perinatal care centers for mothers and infants (89 centers) Emergency medical service centers Pediatric emergency and (244 centers) critical care centers · Regional perinatal care centers for mothers and infants (278 centers) As of April 1, 2011 As of May 16, 2011 (Preterm infants, etc.) Emergency medical services requiring Pediatric emergency medical services requiring hospitalization (holidays and night time) hospitalization (holidays and night time) • Pediatric emergency medical service support programs (163 regions) • Groups of hospitals on rotational duty (399 hospitals) · Pediatric emergency medical service core hospitals • Joint-use hospitals (10 hospitals) (28 hospitals (53 regions)) As of March 31, 2011 As of September 1, 2010 Primary emergency medical care (holidays and night time) Primary pediatric emergency centers • Rotational on-call system among practitioners (632 regions) (developed using the supplementary budget of FY2006) • Holiday and night time emergency patient centers (553 centers) As of March 31, 2011 Telephone consultation on pediatric emergency medical services (holidays and night time) Pediatric emergency telephone consultation programs (47 locations) As of July 5, 2010 Child emergency patients Adult emergency patients