It is divided into three main sections: Resident, Window (窓口), and Backyard (バックヤード). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Resident Section: Starts with '出産届出' (Maternity Notification) which goes through '受付' (Reception) at the window. Later, the resident provides an '申請書' (Application Form) via '手渡し' (Hand delivery) to the '交付' (Issuance) step. Window Section: The process begins with '届出受付' (Notification Reception), followed by '届出内容確認' (Notification Content Confirmation). From here, it branches to either '被保険者資格確認' (Insured Person Qualification Confirmation) or '支給申請状況確認' (Payment Application Status Confirmation). Both steps lead to '確認' (Confirmation), which then leads to '交付' (Issuance). Finally, the process moves to '各種申請管理' (Various Application Management) and ends. Backyard Section: This section handles system integrations and document management. It includes two instances of the '国民健康保険システム' (National Health Insurance System) connected to the qualification and status confirmation steps. A '申請書' (Application Form) is linked to the status confirmation step. Three detailed annotations are provided: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Annotation 1: Explains that the My Number is used for information sharing regarding maternity allowance payments between different insurers. Annotation 2: States that if an insurer receives an information request about a payment, they must provide the information. Annotation 3: Refers to other application management procedures under business flow 22.1.
