

Promoting high quality elderly livelihood

China's practices in old-age insurance to cope with population ageing

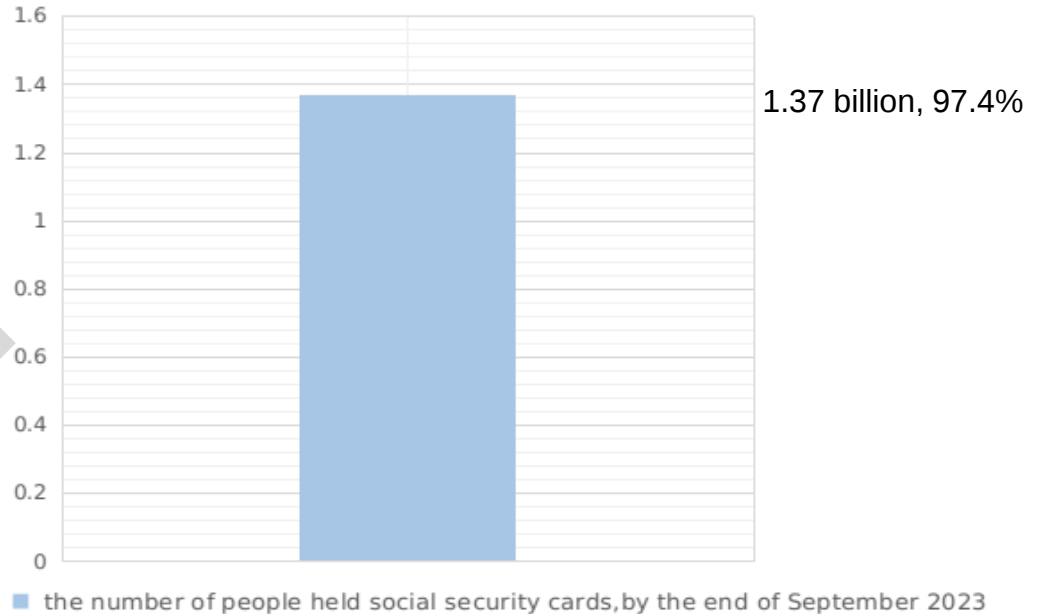

China's practices: the old-age insurance methods to cope with an ageing society

- Establishment of the old-age insurance system covering the entire population in urban and rural areas
- Steady improvement of the pension benefits

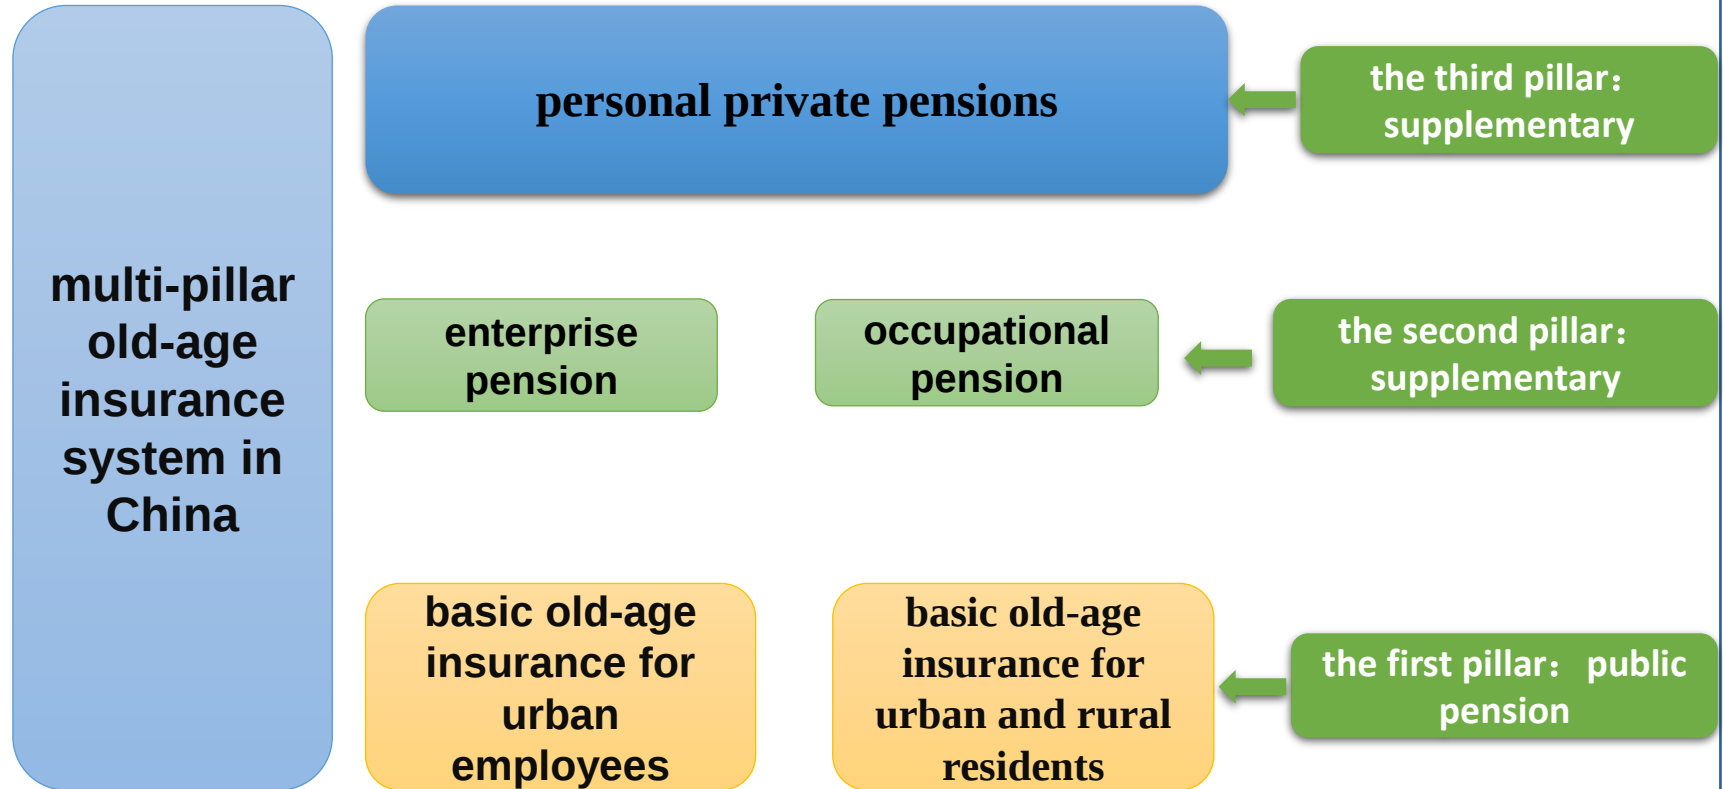

- Implementing the unified national management system
- Building up a network of management and service

China's practices:
the old-age
insurance methods to cope with an ageing society

Construction of the multi-pillar old-age insurance system

·||| Thank you! ||·