Requirements for Establishing Social Welfare Corporations

The following requirements need to be met when establishing social welfare corporations.

1. Organization

The board members of social welfare corporations must consist of no less than six directors and no less than two auditors. The directors must (1) have insight on the management of social welfare projects and (2) be familiar with the actual situation of welfare in the area where the concerned social welfare corporation proceeds with the project as well as, (3) in the case that the concerned corporation has installed a facility, the administrator of the facility must be among the directors. The auditors must be chosen from (1) those having insight about social welfare projects, and (2) those having insight about financial management.

The councilors of social welfare corporations shall be appointed from among those having insight necessary for the proper management of the concerned corporations, and the number of councilors must exceed the number of directors prescribed in the articles of incorporation.

In addition, it shall not be appropriate to appoint nominally the officials of relevant administrative agencies or those unable to participate in corporate management actually. It is also restricted to appoint those having special relationships such as relatives.

Furthermore, a corporation of a certain size or larger must establish an accounting auditor.

2. Assets

As fundamental property, prepare assets such as land and buildings needed in performing social welfare services.

Prepare operating assets equivalent to no less than 1/12 (desirably no less than 2/12 for corporations primarily engaged in part of services under the Long-Term Care Insurance Act, etc.) of annual operating expenses in the form of cash or deposits, etc.

3. Services

Social welfare corporations can engage in public benefit services and profit-making services in addition to the social welfare services listed on the previous page.

Public benefit services denote services intended to benefit the public but which do not fall into the category of being social welfare services (services with no relation to social welfare do not get approved). More concretely, in-home long-term care support services and the services of managing health care facilities for the elderly or fee-based homes for the elderly, etc. are included as being public benefit services.

Profit-making services refer to services whose profit is appropriated to run social welfare services or public benefit services implemented by the corporation, and can include the management of leasing buildings, parking lots, and running stores, etc. utilizing property owned by the corporation.

Both public interest and profit-making services must be subordinate to social welfare services as the primary business. In addition, the assets to be used in the non-primary purposes should be managed separately from fundamental and operating assets.

4. Disclosure

The concerned corporation must prepare the following documents and report to the competent Agency by the end of June every year.

- Accounting documents, etc. (calculating documents (i.e., Balance Sheet, Business Activity Statement and Statement of Cash Balance, the same hereinafter), as well as Business Report/the detailed statement thereof, Audit Report (including Accounting Auditor Report for accounting audit corporations))
- Property inventory, etc. (property inventory, list of board members, documents describing the standards for payment of remuneration, etc. and documents describing the outline of projects, etc.)

And prepare the above documents and the articles of incorporation in each office to provide for the external inspection unless there is any justifiable reason.

Furthermore, articles of association, calculating documents, list of board members, documents describing the standards for payment of remuneration and the status report must be made public through the Internet.

5. Counseling on establishment

In the course of establishing social welfare corporations the departments and bureaus of prefectures, designated cities, and core cities in charge of the pertinent social welfare corporation should be consulted.

6. Other

Qualification as head of a facility

The head of a social welfare facility must meet the qualifications provided for in the ordinances of the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare and of the former Ministry of Health and Welfare and the "Head of Social Welfare Facilities Managed by Social Welfare Corporation (Director-General Notification)" in 1972.

(Note) *1. 51.9% of Councils of Social Welfare that implement comprehensive consultation services provide such services everyday as part of their reception services.

*2. Small community network activities (watch and support activities) refer to watch and support the activities implemented in a continuous and systematic manner by the neighborhood residents/volunteers (welfare supporters, welfare staff members, etc.), welfare volunteers/child welfare volunteers, and elderly clubs, etc. in the daily living areas (local Councils of Social Welfare, elementary school/junior high school districts, neighborhood self-governing bodies/neighborhood associations, etc.) for people requiring support or those likely to do so. The total number of activity subjects (households) was 2,094,063, mainly consisting of households of the elderly living alone.

*3. Fureai Ikiiki Salons (Side-by-Side and Lively Salons) have been implemented at 86,778 locations.

*4. Daily life and independence support services are implemented by councils of social welfare in prefectures and designated cities as primary implementers with a part of services being entrusted to councils of social welfare that are deemed to be capable of operating the services (core councils of social welfare). The figures indicate the percentage of municipal councils of social welfare that were entrusted with these services to the total. In actual fact, core councils of social welfare get assigned to the areas of multiple municipal councils of un-entrusted social welfare, and thus all areas are covered nationwide. In addition, the number of actual users is increasing every year, with 56,761 persons using the services as of the end of FY2020.

*5. The percentage of municipal social welfare associations capable of being entrusted to the total. Based on Japan National Council of Social Welfare "FY2019 status report on each municipality's efforts for adult guardianship System in Communities".

Social Welfare Facilities

Overview

Outline of Social Welfare Facilities

The purpose of social welfare facilities is to care and nurture those requiring various types of services to be able to lead a social life, including the elderly, children, persons with mental and physical disabilities, and the indigent, and to provide them with various treatment and training on rehabilitation in thus improving their welfare.

Social welfare facilities can be roughly divided into welfare facilities for the elderly, support facilities for persons with disabilities, public assistance facilities, women's protection facilities, and child welfare facilities, among others.

Number and capacity of social welfare facilities by classification

Classification	Number of facilities	User capacity
Total	(facility) 1) 150, 732	(person) 1) 2) 6, 112, 620

(Note) 1) The active facilities grasped by the prefectures, designated cities, and core cities are tabulated.

2) The estimated values are included. The sums in the breakdown may not be equal to the total due to rounding.

Cost Bearing with the Development and Operation of Social Welfare Facilities

The cost of developing social welfare facilities is paid by the public through state and local subsidies, special local bonds, loans from the Welfare and Medical Service Agency, and a part of the profits from public racing events, as well as by private aid systems, and by loan systems for any portion borne by the facility, etc.

The following table shows, in principle, the cost sharing relationship associated with the state subsidy for the cost of any capital investment in buildings used as social welfare facilities.

Cost sharing	National government	Prefectures (including designated cities and core cities)	Municipalities	Social welfare corporations, etc.
Founder
Social welfare corporations, etc.	$\frac{50}{100}$	$\frac{25}{100}$	—	$\frac{25}{100}$

(Note) The development of facilities for the elderly and children-related facilities, both previously organized into the social welfare facility maintenance expense (subsidy), has since FY2005 been reorganized into the subsidy for community care and welfare space development, and the subsidy for development of childcare support facilities for the next generation.

Since FY2008, the development of nursery schools has been placed under the temporary special subsidy for child rearing support measures (Relief Child Fund) instead of the subsidy for development of childcare support facilities for the next generation hitherto, and at the same time the subsidy for nursery school maintenance was newly created.

The cost of operating social welfare facilities (placement expenses) is borne by those admitted to the facilities or allowed use of them or have commissioned a third party to do so, and as described in the following table.

Note that, in the case of living facilities, if the resident of the facilities or his/her living supporter can afford to pay, all or part of the expenses shall be collected according to the ability.

- (Note) *1. The placements (conventionally administrative dispositions) of living support facilities for fatherless families, midwifery homes, and nursery centers were changed to implementation of maternal and child protection, implementation of midwifery, and implementation of childcare (service agreement relationship based on public laws), respectively, pursuant to the partial revision of the Child Welfare Act.
- *2. Including the heads of towns and villages in which welfare offices are established. For towns and villages in which welfare offices are established, the towns and villages are responsible for the payment of placement expenses and cost sharing and the cost sharing ratio remains the same as that of cities.
- *3. Child welfare facilities including small-scale residence style childcare services and establishments providing children's assistance services for a self-reliant living, but excluding nursery schools, maternal and child living support facilities.
- *4. With the abolishment of subsidy for protection expenses of nursing homes for the elderly, etc. and tax resource transfer in FY2005, all placement expenses of welfare facilities for the elderly are now paid by municipalities (including designated cities and core cities).
- *5. "Nursing care homes for persons with physical disabilities" under the former Act on Welfare of Physically Disabled Persons became "social participation support facilities for persons with physical disabilities" in October 2006 with the enforcement of the Services and Supports for Persons with Disabilities Act.
- *6. According to the 3 Acts related to Child and Child Care, as of April 1, 2015 kindergarten and day-care center cooperation type certified child care centers were included. With regard to users for facilities/services excluding private-owned nursery schools, recipients of facility type benefits and community-based day-care benefits (individual benefits) became legal agencies as revised.
- *7. Excluding designated cities and core cities

Certified Social Workers and Certified Care Workers

Overview

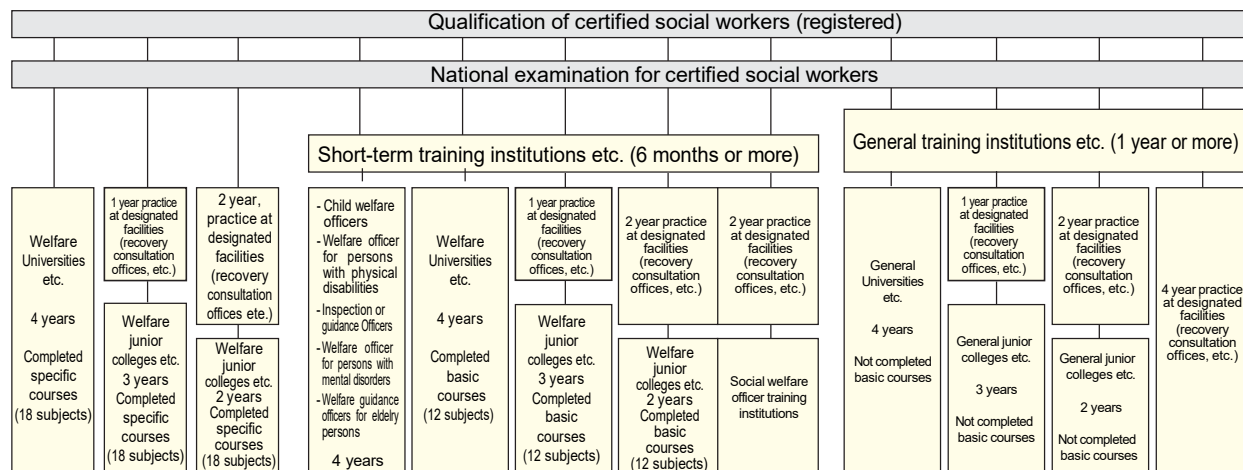

Outline of Certified Social Workers and Certified Care Workers

[Certified social workers]

A certified social worker denotes a person with specialized knowledge and skills that has the right to exclusively use that title in providing anyone facing difficulties in leading their daily lives due to physical/mental disabilities or environmental reasons with advice, guidance, and welfare services, or engaging in the business of enabling communication/adjustments with and providing assistance to doctors, anyone providing health and medical services, and any other relevant professionals.

Those who have studied the social welfare related subjects designated by the Minister of Health, Labour and Welfare at universities, etc. and have passed the national examination for certified social workers can become certified social workers upon registration.

Acquisition of a Certified Social Worker Qualification

[Certified care workers]

A certified care worker denotes a person with specialized knowledge and skills to provide anyone facing difficulties in leading their daily lives due to physical or mental disabilities with long-term care services (including supine suction, etc.), as well as to provide them and their caregivers with guidance on long-term care.

A person engaged in long-term care for 3 years or more and having finished a training for practical workers designated by the prefectural governor can become a certified care worker upon registration after passing the national examination for certified care workers.

Acquisition of a Certified Care Worker Qualification

(Note 1) Regarding training institution routes, graduates from training institutions are entitled to take exams from FY2017, and mandatory national exams are to be gradually introduced over five years.

(Note 2) A person who has completed basic training for long-term care workers and mucus aspiration training, etc. can also take an examination for certified care workers for the time being.

(Note 3) Work experience of 9 months or more is required after graduation from special measure high schools.

(Note 4) A person who has received the lectures on long-term care skills is exempt from the practical examination.

Welfare Volunteers and Child Welfare Volunteers

Overview

Outline of Welfare Volunteers and Child Welfare Volunteers

The welfare volunteers prescribed for in the Commissioned Welfare Volunteers Act shall enhance social welfare through the spirit of providing social services, consultation from point of view of the people, any necessary assistance, and cooperate in the tasks of relevant the administrative agencies, including welfare offices, etc.

In addition, welfare volunteers also serve as child welfare volunteers, as provided for in the Child Welfare Act. Welfare volunteers appropriately identify the situation with the environment surrounding and the lives of children, pregnant women, and fatherless families in communities. If children requiring support are identified, welfare volunteers shall make the effort to solve their problems by providing consultations and advice on the available services and systems.

Increasing expectations with regard to the activities of child welfare volunteers led to a system of child welfare volunteer directors being created in 1994 in thus enabling them to professionally engage in child welfare-related matters, and which was legally established within the Child Welfare Act in 2001 "Child welfare volunteer directors" are designated from among the child welfare volunteers. Child welfare volunteer directors provide liaisons and coordination between child welfare-related agencies and commissioned child welfare volunteers assigned to the region, and provide assistance and cooperation for activities of commissioned child welfare volunteers.

Public Assistance System

Overview

Outline of Public Assistance System

[Public assistance system]

The public assistance system is used to guarantee a minimum standard of living as well as to promote self-support for any citizens that are impoverished by providing the necessary public assistance according to their level of poverty.

The system consists of 8 types of assistance, namely livelihood assistance, education assistance, housing assistance, medical assistance, long-term care assistance, maternity assistance, occupational assistance, and funeral assistance, which can all be provided alone or in combination according to the needs of the person requiring the public assistance.

Determining the Amount of Public Assistance

(Calculation of Minimum Living Expenses)

- In addition to the above items, a standard amount is added in the case of child birth, funeral, etc.

(Calculation of Income Appropriation Amount)

Average monthly income - (Actual necessary expenses + Basic deductions) = Income

(Calculation of Assistance Amount)

Minimum living expenses - Income appropriation amount = Assistance amount

[Standards of public assistance]

The standards of public assistance system involve standards for livelihood assistance, the scope of which includes clothing, food or anything else considered necessary in their daily life, and which get revised using the level equilibrium method that takes into consideration the growth of the consumption level of the general public, etc.

Detailed Data 2

Changes in Percentage Distribution of Households Receiving Public Assistance by Household Type

Examining the number of households receiving public assistance by household type reveals elderly households to have been of the highest percentage at 55.5%.

The decrease in percentage of elderly households in 2005 was due to a change in the definition of elderly households: the definition up to FY2004 was "households composed only of males aged 65 or older and/or females aged 60 or older but with or without any persons younger than 18" whereas the definition from FY2005 on was "households composed only of males and/or females aged 65 or older and with or without persons younger than 18".

Overview

Succession of Hardships During and After the War

☐ Showa-kan

The Showa-kan was opened in the spring of 1999, for the purpose of passing down to posterity about hardships experienced by bereaved families of the war dead and the other people during and after the war.

The Showa-kan exhibits real materials showing the people's lives of that time as they were, provides an access to books and videos, and implements programs that provide a broad range of information on the affiliated facilities. Furthermore the thematic exhibitions are held 3 times a year along different themes to provide an opportunity for the public to commemorate those hardships.

Memorial Services for the War Dead

Overview

Outline of Memorial Services for the War Dead

Memorial Services for the War Dead

Memorial Ceremonies for the War Dead

The National Remembrance Service for the War Dead has been held annually on August 15 at the Nippon Budokan since FY1963 as a national event to console the souls of those who died in the war.

The Chidorigafuchi National Cemetery Memorial Service has been held every spring since FY1964 to lay to rest the remains that have been recovered abroad but cannot be returned to their bereaved.

The participants worship the remains resting in the cemetery.

Recovery of the Remains of War Dead

The government has since FY1952 been recovering the remains of the war dead in the former major battlefields, and approximately 1.28 million remains have been recovered as of the end of March 2022 from among the war dead of 2.40 million abroad (including those in Ioto Island and Okinawa).

Furthermore, the government has been promoting the recovery and repatriation, making focused efforts to collect information on unrecovered remains abroad in cooperation with the private organizations familiar with the local situation, while intensively investigating documents on burial sites of Japanese war dead, which are owned by overseas public record offices, etc.

Identification of the Attribution Groups of the Remains of War Dead

After DNA and trait analysis for the remains of war dead, considering burial place materials, artifacts, it is identified whether they are Japanese remains or not.

DNA Analysis of the Remains of War Dead and Return to the Bereaved

DNA analysis of the remains of war dead is being conducted, the governments return the identified remains to bereaved family.

Furthermore, investigation is being conducted on the artifacts to return to the bereaved family.

Memorial Visits to Burial Sites

The national government has systematically held organized memorial visits mainly for bereaved families since FY1976 to conduct memorial services for the war dead at former major battlefields, on the ocean, and in other areas where recovery of the remains is difficult.

Friendship and Goodwill Memorial Services

Children of the war dead and people living in former major battlefields, both are also war victims. They have been participated in the friendship and goodwill memorial services since FY1991 at the aforementioned sites in thus holding memorial ceremonies for the war victims and wish for a lasting peace.

Maintenance/management of Monuments to the War Dead

Appropriate maintenance and management of monuments to the War Dead erected in the center of each former major battlefield have been conducted, and small-scale monuments also erected in the former Soviet Union.
