

A change of the number of the job-hopping part-timers according to the age-grade

(10 thousand peoples)

Sources : For 1982, 1987, 1992, 1997 by Policy Research Department, Ministry of Labour ("Analysis of Labour Economy for 2000", using data from "Employment Status Survey" by Statistics Bureau, MIC), After 2002 "Labour Force Survey" (Detailed Tabulation) by Statistics Bureau, MIC.

- (Note) 1 For 1982, 1987, 1992 and 1997, job-hopping part-timer are defined as 15-34 years old, and ① The present state of employment affairs is that job title should be "a part-time job" and for men continuously working for 1-5 years, for women terms is based on an unmarried person and holding job. ② To collect the data of unemployed people based on no household work and not attending school who hopes to get "a part-time job".
- 2 For data after FY 2002, job-hopping part-timers are defined as 15-34 year old whom are alumnus (and in case of women, also unmarried) and ① Job title should be "a part-time job" ② Who hopes to get/find "a part-time job". ③ For among day labor force, defines the person of "others" who neither attend school nor the operate the unofficial decision of "a part-time job and the housework
- 3 As the definitions of the job-hopping part-timers is different before 1997, it is necessary to pay attention that data is not connected.